Teaching Philosophy

I believe strong classroom management skills are the basis for an effective learning environment. When expectations are clear and consistent, learning can take place. My expectations of all students are high and my main goal as an educator is to ensure every student reaches his or her academic potential. I provide differentiated instruction to accommodate all learning styles, abilities and interests. I aim to build a sense of community in the classroom and promote positive relationships between student and teacher. Students must feel they are in a safe, nurturing, and comfortable environment where they can make mistakes and learn by them. I promote a classroom culture where students are actively involved and engaged in the planning and evaluation of their own learning, where parent partnerships are nurtured throughout the year and where all children feel valued, cared-for, supported and challenged.
